Directory of Small Business Specialists

At Air Force Space Command Bases

The unit small business specialists are a small business point of contact when seeking to do business with AFSPC. Unit small business specialists conduct one-on-one counseling sessions about how to do business with their base and the Air Force. They also conduct and participate in training seminars for small business concerns, and host and participate in outreach conferences. We recommend you visit the Web sites listed for general information about the base and its mission (space wing sites), for information about the small business office and for information about contracting and specific business opportunities (contracting sites).
